

HAMPTON, PHOEBUS AND OLD POINT.

GEORGIA MAN ROBBED BY SLICK PICK-POCKET

M. B. Crowley, of Omaha, Ga., Relieved of His Wad While Riding From Hampton to Old Point.

Mr. M. B. Crowley, of Omaha, Ga., a hotel proprietor, was robbed of $157 by a pickpocket on a trolley car Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Crowley came to Hampton a few days ago with the view of leasing a large house for the summer. He had made the arrangements to take the house and then decided to visit the Exposition. Taking the car at the corner of King and Queen streets, Mr. Crowley started for Old Point. He then had his pocketbook in his pocket and when he arrived at Old Point he found that he had been "touched" for every dollar he brought with him. Mr. Crowley said he noticed a rather clever looking young man standing near him on the car and that the individual seemed to be determined to remain near him until the Old Point crossing was reached. Here the young man left the car, but Mr. Crowley thought nothing of this, until he attempted to purchase a ticket to Pine Beach.

Mr. Crowley was so distressed over his experience that he decided to quit the Virginia Peninsula and immediately return to Georgia.

W. H. TURLINGTON DROPS DEAD IN PHOEBUS HOME

Well Known Fish and Oyster Dealer Expires Suddenly on Back Porch of House in Water Street.

W. H. Turlington, the well known Phoebus fish and oyster dealer died very suddenly last night about 10:30 o'clock from heart failure. Mr. Turlington closed his place of business shortly before ten o'clock and while making preparations to retire complained to Mrs. Turlington that he felt ill and said that he would take a chair out on the porch in the rear of the house to get some air before going to bed. When he reached the porch some of the members of his family heard him fall and when they reached his side they found him unconscious. Dr. Vanderslice was summoned and when he arrived life was extinct. The physician said that death was caused by heart failure.

Mr. Turlington, who was 60 years of age, was a highly respected resident of Phoebus and his death will be generally regretted. He is survived by a wife and four children.

FREE ATTRACTION A GOOD ONE.

Texana and Reynolds Make a Hit at Buckroe Beach.

Texana and Reynolds, the champion rifle shots and lariat throwers, are making an immense hit at Buckroe Beach this week. The attraction is a free one and the performance occurs on the pavilion at 9 o'clock each evening. Reynolds holds the record as a manipulator of the lariat, while Texana is the champion woman shot of the country.

The extremely warm weather of the past several days has driven large crowds to Buckroe, where the breezes from Chesapeake Bay have proven most enjoyable.

Mr. J. V. Bickford, the new manager of Buckroe, is making a strong bid for local patronage. He has thrown the verandas of the hotel and in fact every section of the beach open to the local people and the cottagers at the resort.
